ELITE and AEROSERVICIO S.A. sign distribution agreement for Chilean and South American market

ELITE Simulation Solutions is delighted to announce that it has entered into a formal distribution and partnership agreement with Aeroservicio S.A. in Chile. Aeroservicio will act as a distributor of ELITE's entire product line of aviation training devices in Chile, Argentina, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay, Paraguay, and Bolivia.

Aeroservicio has a long history of excellence in the aviation industry and is an established entity in the Chilean and Latin American aviation market. The company offers a wide range of services, including pilot training, importing aircraft and parts, and maintenance services. With its remarkable reputation, Aeroservicio is the ideal partner to distribute and further develop ELITE's renowned brand products to the expanding Latin American aviation market.

Aeroservicio has already proven to be a reliable and supportive partner of ELITE over the past years, which makes the formalization of the dealership agreement even more exciting. Wayne Keyes, ELITE's Director of Business Development in the Americas, says: "We are extremely pleased that Aeroservicio has formally joined our high quality global partners to distribute our products in the Latin American market. ELITE's high quality products, along with Aeroservicio's drive for success and knowledge of the Latin American market, perfectly combine all of our skills and expertise to cater to the constantly growing and evolving requirements in the region".

Willem-Jan Derks, CEO of Aeroservicio, says: "ELITE adds great value to the scope of products and services we offer in the region and our current expansion. We feel ELITE's products will prove of great interest to many operators and organizations in the region."
