

MEDIA RELEASE FOR ELITE SIMULATION SOLUTIONS AG

GREECE'S LARGEST INDEPENDENT FTO ORDERS ELITE SIMULATOR – THE FIRST MCC IN THAT COUNTRY

The first FNPT II MCC simulator to be sold in Greece by Elite Simulation Solutions will go to the Jet Stream Aviation Academy, the largest independent flight training organisation in that country and one of the largest in South East Europe.

The Elite Evolution S923 FNPT II MCC will be configured to represent the Beech King Air B200 twin turbine but can quickly be converted to represent the Piper Seneca III twin piston aircraft or the single engine Cessna C172RG.

A special feature of the system will be ultra high visual display of Athens International Airport. Custom built, working with 60cm aerial photography, this imagery will include all buildings at the airport and even surrounding trees.

Despite its clever detailing and accuracy, Elite has been able to supply this add-on at a very low price – which clearly appealed to Jet Stream, which was set up by a group of airline pilots looking to offer new levels of professional training for pilots wanting recreational flying right up to those wanting to fly for airlines.

Jet Stream offers type ratings across the Airbus range, for the Boeing 737 CL to NG, the ATR 42 and 72, the Embraer 135 and 145, the larger Cessna ranges and the Piper Cheyenne PA 31 and 42.

Jet Stream's Director of Training, Dimitris Perdikaris, said: "After months of thorough market research and assessment of the technical specifications of flight simulator devices, the management of our company reached the decision to go for the Elite S923 FNPT II MCC, which fulfils all of our requirements.

"It is a cost effective and versatile training device that offers high quality and reliability, with state-of-the-art aviation equipment able to provide excellent services. Also Elite's professionalism, support and their very quick response to our inquiry was marked by the precision for which the Swiss are renowned."

Elite's Sales Director, René Huddleston, said: "We are very pleased to secure our first FNPTII MCC sale in Greece, particularly to such a professional FTO as Jet Stream. We are convinced that the S923 will add greatly to their training capabilities and that their students will make rapid, positive progress through using the device."

ends

More information from René Huddleston, Marketing & Sales Manager, Elite Simulation Solutions AG, Im Schörl 1, CH-8600 Dübendorf, Switzerland, on Telephone (+41) 43 355 19 24, Email rstone@flyelite.ch

Or from Dimitris Perdikaris, Training Director Jet Stream Aviation Academy, Athens International Airport 'Eleftherios Venizelos', Building 46, 19019 Spata, Greece on (+30) 210 3541333, Email dperdikaris@jetstream.gr